

Ron Oldenkamp
May 22, 2016

1. We live today in the context of pluralism and great diversity.
2. We belong to the Lord. We cannot judge other believers.
3. We need to understand Biblical tolerance or forbearance.
4. We are called to live in Christian community marked by love.

Application: “In essentials let us have unity; in non-essentials let us have liberty; and in all things let us have love.” Rupertus Meldenius