

Sermon Outline for Sunday, June 18, 2017 from Rev. Ron Oldenkamp

For what do we hunger?

Jesus rearranges the subject, the verb and even the object of the people's questioning sentence.

Doing the work of God is, first of all "the work of God."

Jesus is claiming in his own person to be that for which all human beings most long.

The illusion here to the Lord's Supper is unmistakable.

Application: Jesus is the food of the believer—as essential as our everyday bread.
